

9th European Remembrance Symposium Memory and Identity in Europe: Presence and Future

Tallinn, Tallinn Creative Hub, Cauldron Hall
26–28 October 2021

Day 1 – Tuesday, 26 October

13:00–14:00 | Registration

14:30–16:30 | Opening session – European identity today: historical roots and present debates

This session is to discuss multi-layered perceptions of 'European identity' shaped by historical memory implications. The discussion centres around different approaches of remembrance policies and their agents fostering historical awareness in Europe and thus reflecting on the following questions: Is the post-war division into communist and capitalist blocs still relevant and resonating in different macro-regional remembrance cultures rooted in common historical experiences? Which role is the European Union playing now in creating a common identity in Europe?

16:30–17:00 | Coffee break

17:00–18:00 | Turbo presentations (format of the meeting TBC)

During turbo presentations participants showcase their organisations or projects to the Symposium audience. Each speaker has up to 2 minutes. Max. 20 speakers and 1 moderator.

18:00–20:00 | Concert and reception dinner

Famous Estonian singer, violinist and electro musician Maarja Nuut will perform several pieces of musical art, merging the spirits and traditions of the past with the soul of the modern world

Institute of European Network
Remembrance and Solidarity

Zielna 37
00-108 Warsaw,
Poland
t: +48 22 39 57 600
f: +48 22 39 57 601
office@enrs.eu

www.enrs.eu

Day 2 – Wednesday, 27 October

10:00–11:30 | First panel discussion – Remembrance in action: everyday challenges

This session aims to reflect on the impact of project activities in the field of history on the formation of a European remembrance culture. Representatives of various cultural and remembrance institutions discuss and share their experiences while addressing a range of issues such as: How do contemporary social campaigns, cultural and educational projects as well as documentaries raise and influence awareness of totalitarian regimes? In what way can historical and cultural projects foster reconciliation processes?

11:30–12:00 | Coffee break

12:00–14:00 | Case studies: project practices

During this session, coordinators of educational and social projects in the field of history share best practice experiences on three different project formats:

Dealing with difficult past: TBA

Oral history as an inspiration: TBA

Use of new media/technologies: TBA

14:00–14:45 | Lunch and coffee break

15:00–17:00/17:30 | Cultural visits

Tallinn, different venues

Possible options:

- 1) Memorial to Estonia's Victims of Communism and Estonian Historical Museum
- 2) Patarei Prison exhibition area 'Communism is Prison'
- 3) Historical guided sightseeing tour of Tallinn's Old Town (a walking tour) including visiting the Vabamu Museum of Occupations and Freedom and the KGB Prison Cells.

17:30–18:00 | Coffee break

18:00–19:30 | Second discussion panel – 1989 revisited

This panel is devoted to recent research on various political, cultural and economic changes related to the year 1989 in East-Central Europe. How has the memory of the transformation changed over the last 30 years? Have these changes triggered the recent research interest in this topic? What are the regional differences? The discussion participants will include authors of books devoted to the 1989 transformation.

19:30–21:00 | Reception dinner

Day 3 – Thursday, 28 October

09:15–10:00 | Registration

10:00–11:30 | Third panel discussion – Struggles with the past: memory and politics

This session addresses issues of controversy regarding a common remembrance culture in Europe characterised by varying experiences and subjective appraisals: In what terms do the differing perceptions nation states as well as collective groups in Eastern and Western Europe have of totalitarian regimes resound in a politicisation of memory? Are there any differences in Holocaust remembrance in Western and Eastern Europe? What are the reasons for the popularity of communism in various countries, irrespective of its crimes?

11:30–12:00 | Coffee break

12:00–14:00 | Round table discussion: The future of European historical debates

This discussion aims to assess the current state of a common European remembrance culture in order to reflect on its prospects with regard to possible future historical debates. Therefore, the session addresses possible scenarios of upcoming conflicts rooted in differing local, regional, national as well as generational perspectives on historical experiences.

14:00 | Closing remarks - End of the Symposium